JACKSON IS GUILTY

The Jury Holds Him Responsible For Pearl Bryan's Death.

SENTENCE FIXED AT DEATH.

The Jury Remained in Their Rooms a Little Less Than Three Hours—A New Trial Is Asked For by Jackson's Attorney—Motion to Be Heard Saturday, May 23.

CINCINNATI, May 15.—Scott Jackson has been found guilty of the murder of Pearl Bryan and his punishment fixed at death. It was nearly 10 o'clock when court convened with the usual ceremonies. Judge Helm at once ordered the jury brought in, and when the 12 men had taken their seats, he said: "Gentlemen of the jury, you have heard the evidence in the case of the commonwealth of Kentucky against Scott Jackson; you have listened to the instructions of the court; you have heard the argument of counsel. You will now return to the juryroom and remain until you can return a verdict." The jury then filed out. It was just 10:06.

Scott Jackson was brought into the courtroom a few minutes before the jury came in. He was quite alone. None of his friends were with him to help him hear the verdict, whatever it might be. His mother was unable to endure the strain longer, and she and Mr. and Mrs. Post had returned to Greencastle.

Jackson was nervous and ill at ease for a time, but shortly after the jury retired he was surrounded by a number of newspaper men, with whom he laughed and joked. A cigar was given to him by one of the reporters, and a sort of smoking social was held during the morning. There were not many women in the courtroom, but the place was filled with men. Judge Helm, after he had dismissed the jury, left the courtroom. Just before 12 o'clock he returned. He called the sheriff to him and the two held a whispered conversation. Then the sheriff spoke to some of the detectives and deputy sheriffs that were present, and they started to the different quarters of the courtroom.

Sheriff Plummer then rapped for order, although the admonition was not needed, and he said: "When this verdict is read, gentlemen, I want to say that everybody must keep quiet. They must keep their seats until court is adjourned."

Judge Helm then said: "Mr. Sheriff, you can bring in the jury." They came slowly and impressively. Old man Shea, foreman of the jury, was in the lead. He held in his hand a copy of the verdict and a copy of typewritten instructions of the judge. The jurors started to sit down, but Judge Helm said: "Face me, gentlemen, and stand up." The roll of the jury was then called, and every man answered in a clear and distinct voice.

Then Judge Helm said: "Before this verdict is read, I want to say to the spectators in the courtroom that whatever it may be, no expression, either of approval or disapproval, will be allowed. There are a number of officers scattered among the people, and they have orders to arrest any one making any noise at all."

Then turning to Mr. Shea, the judge asked him to hand up the verdict. A white paper, folded lengthwise, was handed to Clerk Tony Rosecher who read it in loud voice: "We the jury find the defendant guilty of the murder of Pearl Bryan, and fix his punishment at death."

Regardless of the admonitions of the court, the people could not be restrained. Some of the men rose in their seats, clapping their hands. One man in the rear of the room cried, "My God!" in a tone of exultation, and one man who remained undiscovered whooped like an Indian. The officers restrained the crowd, and silence was soon restored. As the verdict was read Colonel Crawford flushed up to his eyes and Scott Jackson's face turned to an ashen gray. His lips trembled, and the half-smoked cigar fell from between his fingers. He kept his eyes on the ground before him and was as motionless as the dead.

The news spread to the people outside almost as soon as it was known in the courtroom, and there the people could not be restrained. As soon as the verdict became known a great shout went up—a shout that was full of exultation, and which must have struck terror to the heart of the prisoner.

"Go out and arrest those people!" cried Judge Helm. Two or three officers started out, and the noise outside ceased.

The jury was then polled by the court and each juror answered firmly that the verdict as read was what he had found. Judge Helm then said: "While I intend to express no opinion in regard to your verdict, either as to approve or disapprove it, I want to tender you here and now the thanks of this court for the honest, upright and conscientious manner in which you have performed your duty. You deserve the thanks of this community. You will now retire with the sheriff, and receive the compensation for your labor that the law allows."

Colonel Crawford here spoke up, "Your Honor," he said, "the law says that the jury may be interrogated as to the manner in which they reached the verdict, with a view of finding out if they reached it by lot or in any other legal way." He read the law on the subject and Judge Helm asked the jury how they had reached the verdict. They were instructed for McKinley. A sound money platform was adopted.

ballot. Colonel Crawford then wished to present a motion for new trial, but Judge Helm said that he would not hear it until 2:30 o'clock. Sheriff Plummer then adjourned court and the people filed out.

A strong guard of officers surrounded Scott Jackson under the leadership of Sheriff Plummer and he was escorted to jail and back to the cell in which he has lived for the past two months. This time hope did not bear him company.

Judge Helm called the afternoon session of court to order at 3:35. The attorneys in the Jackson case were all present. Attorney Crawford asked that nothing be done without the presence of the prisoner, and the court ordered Jackson brought in.

Attorney Crawford then moved that there be an arrest of judgment on the ground that the indictment did not state facts constituting an offense in that the distinction was not made as to whether Jackson was principal or accessory.

This the court refused to grant and Crawford then moved for a new trial on the following grounds:

1. That the trial commenced in the absence of the defendant, Scott Jackson.

2. That there was error in not including in the instructions to the jury the instructions offered by counsel for the defendant.

3. That the verdict did not agree with the law and evidence.

4. That the undue excitement which prevailed in the community prevented a fair trial.

5. That error was committed in not permitting the trial to be free and open.

6. That error was committed in letting the sheriff have charge of the jury.

7. That the court erred in not granting an arrest of judgment.

8. That the court erred in overruling the demurrer to the indictment.

The judge stated that he would hear arguments on the motion on Saturday, May 23. Court was then adjourned.

Judge Helm, Attorney Crawford and some other friends will leave for Put-in-Bay for a short vacation Friday.

NEWS AT GREENCASTLE.

Everybody Satisfied Outside of the Relatives of Scott Jackson.

GREENCASTLE, Ind., May 15.—Word reached the city about 1 o'clock that Jackson had been condemned to death. The news spread like wildfire and soon knots of men could be seen on the street discussing it. It seems to give satisfaction outside of the relatives of Jackson. Everybody expected it.

The telegram to Jackson's folks was opened by Professor Post at his residence, on East Washington street. He read it and then silently handed it to his wife, who read it and then wept. The news was broken as gently as possible to the mother, with the quick assurance that Scott would be yet acquitted, nevertheless the news completely prostrated her, as her nervous system had been at a high tension all day in expectation of the news. Every one expressed their sympathy for her.

HOUSE STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Two of Its Occupants Perish in the Flames That Follow.

NORFOLK, May 15.—Yesterday morning between 3 and 4 o'clock, during the terrific electrical storm that raged in this vicinity, a large frame house situated on the farm of T. J. Cramer, near Oceanview, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground, and two of its occupants perished in the flames. They were S. L. Dashiell and a boy, name unknown.

The house was occupied by about 25 colored strawberry pickers, and when it was struck all but two made their escape. It is thought these two were stunned by the lightning. Their bodies were burned to a crisp.

Run Down by a Train.

WABASH, Ind., May 15.—Charles Sheridan, 40 years old, employed on the limestone cutting of the Big Four Railroad company in this city, was struck and instantly killed by an engine on the Wabash railroad here a 1 o'clock yesterday morning. Sheridan was intoxicated and it is thought that he sat down on the track and fell asleep. The pilot of the locomotive struck him on the head, crushing the skull. Sheridan has a brother and sister at Fort Wayne.

Congestion of the Brain.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., May 15.—While at the residence of Richard Hartwell, Miss Carrie Shane, a well known young lady of this city, was taken suddenly ill of congestion of the brain, at 4 o'clock, and died in less than an hour. She was soon to have been married to Louis Scheer, assistant agent of the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern here. Her parents are grief-stricken.

Strike Threatened.

ANDERSON, Ind., May 15.—At a secret session of the 31 Indiana window glass manufacturers yesterday it was decided to support the Haring-Hart works in the Muncie strike. They will meet President Burnside today and demand the return of the strikers to work. Unless they return every plant in Indiana will close.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., May 15.—At the Republican state convention yesterday, J. E. Dana of Charleston, H. B. White of Tyler county, F. M. Reynolds of Mineral county and O. W. Hardman of Tyler county were elected delegates at large to send to St. Louis. Alternates elected were J. H. Duval, F. M. Thomas, John L. Hurst and George Poffenbarger. They were instructed for McKinley. A sound money platform was adopted.

TWO BISHOPS RETIRED

Bowman and Foster Voted Out of the Conference.

TOO OLD TO BE EFFECTIVE.

Touching Plea of Bishop Foster Made With Extended Arms—His White-Haired Colleague Joins Him and They Retire From the Hall—Other Doings of the General M. E. Conference.

CLEVELAND, May 15.—Yesterday's session of the Methodist general conference was marked by the largest attendance of the session, both of delegates and spectators. The boxes were all filled, and the seats reserved for the general public were all occupied. Instead of taking up the general order of business the call of the committee was resumed where it was left off the day before.

When the committee on temporal economy was called, Secretary Monroe asked for a suspension of rules, whereby a resolution, which contemplated a change in the discipline, could be acted upon without being in the possession of the conference for one day and without being printed in The Daily Advocate.

The report of the committee on missions to increase the contingent fund from $25,000 to $50,000 was adopted.

6. That error was committed in letting the sheriff have charge of the jury.

7. That the court erred in not granting an arrest of judgment.

8. That the court erred in overruling the demurrer to the indictment.

The judge stated that he would hear arguments on the motion on Saturday, May 23. Court was then adjourned.

Judge Helm, Attorney Crawford and some other friends will leave for Put-in-Bay for a short vacation Friday.

NEWS AT GREENCASTLE.

Everybody Satisfied Outside of the Relatives of Scott Jackson.

GREENCASTLE, Ind., May 15.—Word reached the city about 1 o'clock that Jackson had been condemned to death. The news spread like wildfire and soon knots of men could be seen on the street discussing it. It seems to give satisfaction outside of the relatives of Jackson. Everybody expected it.

The report of the committee on education, which excuses students from taking the conference examinations in those branches in which they have passed satisfactory examinations in some Methodist school, was adopted unanimously.

The committee on church extension made a report against the extension of work in foreign lands.

Great interest was manifested for the outcome of the committee on episcopacy. Dr. Buckley, the chairman, made the report upon three distinct subjects.

He read the report of the committee. It stated that in the opinion of the committee Bishops Bowman and Foster are too old to stand the strain of the duties and recommended their retirement at the end of this conference as non-effective.

In the list of bishops returned as effective were all other bishops, with the exception of Bishop Taylor, and his name was not mentioned. A generous appropriation was urged for them, and the respect felt for them was fully set forth.

As soon as the report was read Bishop Foster advanced. The entire audience arose and received him with the greatest applause. In the midst of a most impressive silence the low tones of Bishop Foster's voice were heard. He said he simply had a request to make.

He knew that the question was one of great delicacy and he begged to be permitted to retire. Cries of "No, no," came from all parts of the hall, and Bishop Foster extended his arms saying "Please, please." It was a most pathetic scene. Bishop Foster spoke for a few moments, and the conference, by a rising vote, granted him his request.

Bishop Bowman said he would make the same request, as he had just learned for the first time in his life that he was not effective. A call was made for a few remarks from him, but he declined to say anything, and the two white-haired fathers left the hall. Bishop Foster's speech was touching in the extreme, and he left everything in the hands of the conference.

The first part of the report was adopted. Then Dr. Buckley read the second part, determining the non-effectiveness of Bishops Bowman and Foster. Dr. Buckley moved the adoption of the report, and a hundred voices seconded the motion. Dr. George H. Bridgeman of Minnesota offered a substitute, which cited that Bishop Morris and Bishop Simpson be continued in the board of bishops, but relieved them of their active duties. In support of his motion Dr. Bridgeman said it was unnecessary and unkind to take such action as was contemplated in the report of the committee. He eulogized Bishops Bowman and Foster, and urged that they be permitted to round out their magnificent careers as effective members of the board.

Several colored delegates pleaded for the selection of one bishop of African descent, but no action was taken on their request. Then the substitute of Dr. George H. Bridgeman of Minnesota which provided that Bishops Bowman and Foster be not retired, was tabled and the report of the committee on episcopacy retiring the two bishops was adopted.

The conference then adjourned.

The two bishops who were retired will be supported by the book concern.

EARTHQUAKES IN ECUADOR.

Three Cities Destroyed Entailing a Great Loss of Life.

NEW YORK, May 15.—A dispatch from The Herald from Panama, Colombia, says: Mail advices received here from Guayaquil, Ecuador, to the effect that great damage was done in Quito and the interior towns of the republic by the recent earthquakes, which destroyed the city of Puerto Viejo. Babahoyo and Ambato were great sufferers by seismic disturbances and the loss of life was very great.

The Herald's Guayaquil correspondent cables that the port of Bahia was visited Tuesday night by a hurricane of signal violence, accompanied by subterranean thunder. Along the coast of the province of Manabi chasms of enormous extent have opened in the earth.

DARING BANK ROBBERY.

The Cashier Bound and Gagged and $11,000 Carried Off.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., May 15.—The most daring bank robbery which has ever occurred in this part of Illinois was perpetrated at noon yesterday at Buffalo, 18 miles east of this city, the cashier being bound and gagged and $11,000 carried off by the robbers.

The bank of Buffalo is owned by A. A. Pickrell & Company. Yesterday afternoon two masked men entered the bank just as Carl Kloppenburg, the cashier, was locking up the safe preparatory to going to his dinner. Kloppenburg was the only person in the bank at the time. The robbers seized him from behind, bound and gagged him and then took all the money in the bank, amounting to $11,000. William P. Dawson, who entered the bank some time later, saw Kloppenburg lying on the floor bound and released him. Kloppenburg could give but meager description of the robbers. It is thought they are experts at the business. The country has been scourged by mounted men without success.

FIRE IN A PENITENTIARY.

Kentucky Suffers a Hundred Thousand Dollar Loss at Eddyville.

KUTTAWA, Ky., May 15.—Fire was discovered in the boilerroom of the Southern Shoe company in the branch penitentiary at Eddyville yesterday evening at 8 o'clock. The big brick building of the Southern Shoe company valued at $10,000 is a total loss including machinery and stock worth $50,000.

The building machinery and stock of the Southern broom works was burned, loss $10,000. The Eddyville Wagon company losses $10,000. Total loss may reach $100,000 with very little insurance. About 160 prisoners are left without employment.

Her Act Killed Two.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—Mary Eismann, a servant employed by James Allan Clark, committed suicide yesterday by asphyxiating, turning on the gas in the kitchen and her adjoining bedroom. Clark, who was 50 years of age, needing the girl's attention and receiving no answer to his calls, went into the kitchen, closing the door behind him. Being very feeble he was quickly overcome by the gas and was found dead on the floor a few feet from the dead servant.

Essenic Order Senate Adjourns.

LOUISVILLE, May 15.—The supreme senate of the Essenic order adjourned yesterday afternoon to meet again the last Tuesday in April, 1898, in Cincinnati. The heads of the four departments were constituted a tribunal to prepare a code of laws for the uniform rank or to pass upon disputed questions. These heads are Major Generals John H. Leathers, W. S. Gwynn, Charles L. Young and F. H. Pressier.

Fired Millions of Property.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 15.—William H. Daily, aged 20 years, and William O. Reed, aged 18, both of this city were arrested last night and confessed to the fire marshal of setting 50 fires during the past six months, entailing a loss of $2,500,000. There has been a reign of terror over firebugs' work in Boston, Somerville, Cambridge and Waltham for months, and detailed confessions on 39 fires are given.

Oil Set on Fire by Lightning.

BRADFORD, Pa., May 15.—During a severe electrical storm at Rixford, in this county, last night lightning struck an oil tank containing 30,000 barrels of petroleum of the Tidewater Pipe company, setting it on fire and it is still burning furiously. The pipe line employees threw up intrenchments to keep the burning oil confined in a pool about the tank and prevent the spread of the flames.

Must Stop Kissing Typewriters.

PHILADELPHIA, May 15.—The promiscuous kissing of girl typewriters must cease, declared Judge Biddle in court yesterday. Then he sent William Bittingles to prison for six months for kissing Miss Edith Crowthers, whom he employed as a typewriter. The girl is only 15 years old, and is very pretty. She said Bittingles kissed her the second day she was in his office.

HIRSH BEE: "A young man is going about the State working the members of the Knights of Pythias. He goes into a town and shows the members a handsome photograph frame and agrees to put in their lodge room at $2 per member, with pictures of the contributing members. He collects the $2 a head and then the frame and man both disappear. Keep your eye peeled for the rascal."

In the past ten months, the State Auditor's books show that over $1,000 has been paid to pro tem. Judges in Judge Patton's district, the Twenty-fourth. Pro tem. Judges have held every term of court in that time, but Judge Patton has been drawing his salary regularly. The Auditor has called a halt, and will pay Judge Patton no more until the matter has been investigated. This is right. If a Judge doesn't earn his salary he should not receive it.

This from the Carlisle Mercury contains some excellent and timely advice:

We are grieved to see the inclination of the Democrats of Nicholas to make savage war on each other on account of differences that exists on the money question. It may be very funny to cut and slash each other now but it will not be so funny about next November a year. A little reason, charity and good sense is a good thing to exercise at all times. Party harness sits mighty light on the voters backs now and the secret ballot is a dangerous thing to a divided party. Better stop and think a little along this line fellow Democrats.

Do Not Do This.

Do not be induced to buy any other if you have made up your mind to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Remember that Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. Do not give up in despair because other medicines have failed to help you. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla faithfully and you may reasonably expect to be cured.

THEY ARE HOT.

MILLERSBURG PEOPLE DO NOT RELISH WRENN'S PARDON—WANT THE LAW CHANGED.

MILLERSBURG, Ky., May 13.—Owing to the well-known reputation of John Henry Wrenn here, at his old home, our citizens are very indignant over his being pardoned by Gov. Bradley.

They condemn the Governor and Judge Morton for lending his aid and influence toward turning such a criminal loose, who, we are told, during his confinement in the Paris jail, before his conviction, threatened to kill one of our well-known and substantial citizens, who appeared as a witness against him, if he ever was cleared.

The people here further believe that the Governor must certainly have been deceived in this case, especially in regard to that plea which Wrenn's liberators set forth, claiming that his crime was nothing more than manslaughter, when facts prove that twenty-four hours passed between the time of the quarrel and the time of the murder, and such being the case it is the unanimous opinion that the crime was murder in the first degree.

Then again, it is claimed, that a very few of the citizens of this immediate section of Bourbon County, where Wrenn was best known, signed any petition asking for his pardon, and those few that did sign the paper argue that they never once had any idea that he had any chance whatever of being pardoned.

Since this pardon the people of this place want the State laws so amended that the power of pardoning will be taken from the Governor and vested in a Board of Pardons.

SAYS the Frankfort correspondent of the Courier-Journal: "It begins to be apparent that the new Republican State officials have early run against a snag that has wrecked the political careers of older, if not smarter men. They will soon have to explain to their constituents the methods by which they threw away $48,000 in State warrants and cash, and rendered idle or more than idle that portion of the State's convicts who did happen to be at profitable employments. Every one who cares to prejudge the action the court will take say in advance that the Kentucky Chair Company will never be forced to pay the $48,000 it owes the State till it has received quite as much damages for the profitable contract taken from it by the Commissioners. It is also plain that the 600 convicts now making chairs will in a few days have more chairs made than the State has places in which to store them, and that the Commissioners, while hunting high and low for a method to dispose of the output, have not yet advertised for bidders. It is plain as can be that in a few days the Commissioners will have 1,200 idle convicts on their hands, together with several thousand dozen unsold chairs, an empty State treasury and a penitentiary expense account of from $12,000 to $15,000 a month, which accounts under Democratic rule were paid by the prison's income."

THE MAYSVILLE WATER-WORKS.

Some of the City's Leading Business Men Have Secured Control.

The much-talked-of sale of the Maysville water-works has at last been consummated.

It is gratifying to know that hereafter it will be under purely local management.

Some of our leading business men have secured control of the works, and will make it a point to run the works in the interest of the people of Maysville hereafter.

The Board of Directors has already been elected. It consists of Mr. Charles D. Pearce, Mr. H. D. Watson and Mr. C. B. Pearce, Jr., of this city, and Messrs. A. L. Schmidt and A. R. Cooper, of Louisville.

Mr. Schmidt has been President and Mr. Cooper Secretary of the company, but new officers will be chosen at a meeting of the Board to be held in the next few days.

Maysville is to be congratulated on the change, as it will be the earnest endeavor of the new management to extend to citizens every inducement for patronizing the works.

Death Yesterday of the Well-Known Forman's Springs Merchant.

Mr. J. M. Hawley, whose critical illness has been mentioned, died yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at his home at Forman's Springs where he has conducted a store for years.

He had been ill a month or so, and was partially paralyzed some days since. The case was a rather peculiar one. It is claimed he was poisoned by taking some patent medicine. He leaves a wife but no children.

The funeral will occur to-morrow at 10:30 a.m. at Canaan Church, with services by Rev. T. B. Stratton. Burial at Mt. Olivet Church. Deceased was a member of Maysville Commandery No. 10, K. T., and was also a member of Limestone Lodge No. 36, K. of P. He will be buried with Masonic honors.

NEAR the line between Bath and Montgomery counties reside three widows, Mrs. Stoner, Mrs. Ward and Mrs. Berry, with their bachelor brother, Mr. Will Phelps. They have two sisters who are also widows. They are big real estate owners, one of them having 1,000 acres of fine blue grass land. Although so very wealthy they devote considerable time to the raising of poultry, and now have seventy peafowls and 800 young chickens. All are devoted members of the church, and have a wide reputation for their Christian hospitality. Messrs. B. F. Clift and James N. Kirk were entertained at their home on a recent trip to Bath, where they went to buy some fine cattle for the Eastern market.

ONLY A SONG.

But It Defeated Tom Marshall For Congress.

[San Francisco Argonaut.]

While the late James H. Beard, father of Dan Beard, the artist, was painting a portrait of Zachary Taylor, he said to him: "Well, General, I suppose you are to be our next President?" "I hope not," grunted the bluff old hero; "no military man has any business in the Presidential chair, but if they offer it to me, I suppose I'll be — fool enough to accept it." And he was. Shortly after Mr. Beard's marriage to a niece of Col. Carter, in 1833, he made the Southern campaign tour. Tom Marshall, of Kentucky, was then running for Congress. He was defeated by a song, which Beard wrote, and this brought a challenge to a duel. Eighteen boon companions of the rhymester answered the challenge, and told Marshall he must fight all of them, singly or all at once, but the eighteen men he must meet! Somehow this duel never came off, and Marshall never afterward alluded to it but once, and that was when he first saw Beard's canvas, "The Last Victim of the Flood." Standing before the painting, Marshall seemed visibly impressed. Finally, drawing himself up to his full height, he turned to the artist and said: "Beard, you're a mighty good painter, but you're a — poor poet."

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

A NEW RULE.

Court of Appeals Will Make More Speed With the Docket.

The Court of Appeals has announced an additional and highly important rule, which has been adopted in the hope of burrying up the delayed docket.

The rule is that for the next two years opinions of the court in cases not to be reported shall not be elaborated.

In this way it is expected that much time will be saved by the court in unimportant cases.

A SPECIAL from Washington City says: "Representative Hulick, from the Committee on Naval Affairs, has reported a bill to remove the charge of desertion from the record of Horace G. Reed, Reed, at the age of sixteen, enlisted in the navy at Cincinnati and served on board the United States steamers Gram- and Moose. As the steamer upon which he was in the service passed up the Ohio River by his home at Ripley, Ohio, he asked leave to go ashore to see his mother, who was then lying at the point of death. He was refused. Reaching Charleston Bar he left the boat without permission, and went back to see his mother. Upon the return of the boat down the river young Reed boarded her, but was charged with desertion. The committee unanimously recommends the bill, that his widow may receive a pension."

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, then laxatives or other remedies are not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, then one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.
